PATRICK HAYES ESCAPES. On Saturday afternoon between one and two o'clock Patrick Hayes, who was recently sentenced to two years' imprisonment at hard labor for biting off Capt. Larsen's ear, made good his escape from the prison gang. He was at work on Beretania street just beyond the Ice Works with three other prisoners in charge of luna Place. The latter had particular instructions to watch Hayes. About the time mentioned Hayes asked permission of the luna to go to a water closet attached to an empty house the other side of Col. Iaukea's residence. Not returning within the space of three er four minutes Place went to the closet and found Hayes had cleared out, leaving his prison clothes. Word was at once sent to the Station House and Marshal Soper issued a reward of $25 for the capture of Hayes and also placed extra guards throughout the city and suburbs. Police Captain Hopkins went out to the place where Hayes escaped, and near the fence on the street in rear of the cleset he noticed marks showing that a back had been driven up and turned around. The Marshal has discharged Place as luna. Up to the time of going to press Hayes has not been

BARCBALL: The Monelpine Beat the Massache,

The game on Saturday between the Honolulus and Kamehamehas drew out quite a large crowd of spectators, and at different points was quite interesting. W. Lucas pitched a good game for the winners, only three safe hits being made off on a feul fly and Spencer on strikes. him by the Kamehamehas, and those in the ninth innings. Harry Whit nev played a fine game at second. Wodehouse's errors behind the bat were due to sore bands and illness. Davis did not pitch his usual game probably owing to the fact that catcher Pahau's hand was not quite well. The latter however played very well. Pakele played badly a first and so did Wise at second. Th Kamehamehas were unable to make a safe hit until the ninth innings. In the first innings they made four runs be

Second innings-A. Lucas struck out and Oat flied to Makaimoku. Thrum made a very respectable first appearance on the diamond, for the very first ball he got he rapped a single to right field, stole second, and scored on a wild throw by Makaimoku. W. Lucas hit to Makaimoku who threw wild, Wodehouse made a single to left field, but G. Lucas put an end to the innings by following his brother Albert's example and fanning. For the Kamehamehas Joseph took his base on balls, stole second, third on Wodehouse's error and home on Davis' out at first. Spencer struck out, Davis returned at first and A.

The Honolulus added two runs to their score in the fifth. Wodehouse hit safe to right field, stole second, reached third on G. Lucas, out at first, home on Pakele's error. In the ninth W. Lucas was safe at first on Joseph's fumble, stole second and third bags. Wodehouse hit to Wise who fumbled, Lucas crossing the plate. G. Lucas took a base on a fumble by Pakele. Equitable Life Assurance

OF THE UNITED STATES,

REPLY OF THE EQUITABLE LIFE

Advertisement of the Mutual Life in Daily Bulletin Aug. 12, 1889.

It was not the intention of this Agency to intrude upon the public again, but the remarkable production of Mutual Life's traveling Agent necessitates a final reply. The invitation to enter into a discussion upon the merits or demerits of these respective Companies, a discussion so extensive in its range as to include even a criticism of the character and ability of the managers, this Agency respectfully and firmly declines. Personalties and recriminations are not arguments and will not be indulged in from this Office. With such signal advantages in favor of his Company, one wonders why this gentleman should pause to seek a quarrel here. Why not fly to the business centers of either Chicago or New York and make his sweeping challenge there. In the State of New York, the home of both of these Companies, the record was as follows:

New Business in 1888, Equitable.....$23,802,612 00

Perhaps if the Mutual's claims to public patronage could be as clearly shown there in the same chaste and elegant style which has been adopted here, the verdict of New York might go with that Company next year. Without dwelling upon the Mutual's record in the past which has been in the main a good one, its present standing, and its prospects for the future are the points that a prudent business man would inquire into.

my own, but from statistics furnished by Insurance Reports, Companies' Statements and other data sent to me from the Home Offices of the Equitable. These figures I contend are entitled to as much credence as any figures furnished in like manner by the Mutual Life to its representatives here. To show clearly, the natural trend of these Companies towards the Whenever a Company allows its surplus to become so depleted that a dead loss for the year is shown instead of a gain it points to reckless financial management and ultimate ruin.

It should be remembered that the Mutual is doing almost entirely a Tontine business now under the name of "Distribution" Policies, and although it adopted this method of Insurance as far back as 1884 not one dollar of surplus has as yet been apportioned thereon.

With its scant general surplus the prospects of good future dividends is certainly not encouraging. Comparisons of Increase in Premium Income, Increase in Total Income, New Business, etc., etc., might be made in like manner as the above, and with like results, but the above seem sufficient to forecast the future.

That the Equitable in its 30th year should have met and passed a Company which had hitherto been allconquering, a Company which had had its own way for 16 years before the Equitable was born, is quite sufficient to account for the jealousy displayed by the Mutual's representative.

I simply refer to the Equitable Record as an authority and claim that it is entitled to as much consideration as the Weekly Statement, a paper issued in the interests of the Mutual Life and which has been in circulation here for many years. With these remarks I close the controversy as far as I am concerned, and positively and flatly refuse to indulge hereafter in a discussion which on the one side seems to have developed into bitter personalities instead of
